OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 27.—(UP)—American First National bank officials today identified the money found in Mrs. Minnie Ray's car as part of that obtained in a holdup of a federal reserve bank messenger here Friday, according to Police Chief Charles A. Becker.

Mrs. Ray was returned here today from Hutchinson, Kans., where she was arrested last night in connection with the robbery.

The 55-year-old widow, socially prominent in the Kansas town, was booked on the police blotter as "Mary Doe." She was charged with possession of stolen property.

HERO DEAD ARE

Memorial Services Held Sunday at Spurgeon and
First M. E. Churches

OUTSTANDING in the services held in local churches in commemoration of America's heroic dead, was the hour of morning worship at the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church. The impressive sermon was given by the Rev.
Moffett Rhodes, pastor and the American Legion and Legion auxiliary were the honor guests of the day.

The Legionnaires met at the Legion hall and donned their overseas caps, then marched to the church with Harry Edwards, sergeant-at-arms, in charge of the colors.

Taking his text for the memorial sermon from John 4:38,
"Other men labored and ye are entered into their labors," the Rev. Mr. Rhodes made a heart-stirring plea for the disabled veteran, while voicing all honor to the dead. "Men Who Win," was his subject.

He said in part:

"The most significant thing about Decoration Day is that we the heirs of the ages; other men labored, and we are entered into their labors. Our institutions and our ideals are the heritage handed down to us by those who paid a large price in service and sacrifice. It is impossible that we should be what we are today without the labors of those who wrote before us.

"Primarily Decoration Day is designed to honor the soldiers who served in the Civil war and have gone on before. They fought their fight and won their crown. After all the men who win are the men who learn to live; men who be-leave something and work for it;
men whose ideals are worth die-ing for, and who are willing to live and sacrifice for them.

SECOND JACOBSON
CASE TRIAL OPENS

WESTERN EXPRESS

TO OPEN NEW LINES

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—(UP)
Second trial of six persons accused of "framing" Councilman Carl I. Jacobson began before Superior Judge Emmet Wilson today.

Jacobson was arrested on a morals charge when found by a vice squad in the home of Mrs.
Callie Grimes. The jury hearing his case disagreed and the charge against him was dropped.

Mrs. Grimes is one of the defendants in the conspiracy trial today. Others are five former police officers, Detective Captains
Frank Williams and Bert Wallis, Detective Lieutenants Harry Raymond and Dick Lucas and Officer Frank Cox.

The defendants are accused of conspiring to "frame" Jacobson because of his investigations of vice conditions in the city. The first trial resulted in a hung jury.

SEATTLE, May 27.—(UP)—
The steamer Aleutian, valued at $1,900,- 000, today lay beneath the waters of the north Pacific ocean, victim of an uncharted rock. Her crew of 135 men and 15 passengers had been rescued.

She rammed the rock early Sunday. Hurried SOS calls were flashed over the lonely stretches of land and sea and the U. S.
Geodetic survey boat Surveyor went to her rescue.

The Aleutian slowly settled, the 150 persons were taken off, and a short time later the steamer went down—three months after 198 passengers had been similarly rescued from the same ship in Seymour Narrows, off British Columbia, when she hit another uncharted rock.

Day assembly to be held on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Birch park, F. M. Grigsby, past commander of Sedgwick Post, G. A.
R., and head of the program committee today had in readiness attractively printed programs for distribution among the hundreds who are expected to be present at the assembly.

J. H. Brown, commander of the post, will preside on the platform at the park and the program will open with a selection by the Santa Ana Junior band, directed by Ces-sara D. Clanton, after which the entire assemblage will be asked to join in singing "America," two verses of which have prominent place on the printed programs. The Rev. Harry Eyan Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church, will offer the invocation and Mrs. A. E.
Chapman, a past president of Sarah A. Rounds tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, will sing.

H. E. Smith, a member of Sedgwick post, will read General Leonard's Order No. 11, and after music by the Junior band, Comrade W. J. Lelser will read the list of names of veterans whose deaths have occurred during the past year.
James H. Hughes will sing a solo number, after which Comrade Smith will read the famous Gettysburg address of President Abraham Lincoln.

A Member of the W. R. C.

Music and a selected reading by Mrs. Alice Young, a member of the W. R. C. will be followed by the chief address of the afternoon to be delivered by J. Frank Burke on a patriotic theme, and the program will close with music and a benediction by the Rev. Mr. Owings.

At the risk of my life I am warning you of a plot carefully planned to kill you," the writer said. "This reached its final stage last night."

"Two men and a woman are now

ATLANTIC PLANES

OLD ORCHARD, Me., May 27.—(UP)— The prospect of a trans-Atlantic race between the French monoplane Bernard-191 and the American monoplane Green Flash dwindled down today as both ships were held on the beach here by unfavorable weather.

Armeno Lotti Jr., backer of the French flight to Paris, said that the Bernard would not take off for at least five days.

Roger Q. Williams and Capt.
Lewis A. Yancey of the Green Flash also were held back by ocean storms.

There was no likelihood of a start by either plane for several days, it appeared.

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 27.—
(UP)—Their names written down in the pages of aviation history, Reg Robbins, 26-year-old "self-made" flyer, and Jim Kelly, 23, former cow-puncher, received the plaudits of the world today for accomplishing the greatest aerial endurance excursion in history.

The two men were forced to end their refueling endurance flight yesterday when the propeller of their rebuilt cabin monoplane Fort Worth split and threatened disaster.

When they brought their plane to rest, they had been in the air 172 hours and 31 minutes, nearly 22 hours greater than the former world's mark set by the army plane Question Mark.

Weary, spattered with oil, unshaven and deafeated by the constant roar of their Wright whirlwind motor, Robbins and Kelly had only regretted that the propeller fallen them. They were positive they could have remained aloft at least 300 hours.

Early in the afternoon a crowd started gathering on Meacham field churned to mud by the rain which had a great deal to do with the ending of the flight. When the flyers set their plane down at 4:07 p. m. the mud surged forward, breaking through police lines to reach the flyers.

Mrs. Robbins and the 5-year-old son of the flyer and Mrs. Kelly, the ex-cowboy's bride of six weeks, were lifted to the shoulders of the men in the crowd and carried to the plane.

Lady Mary Heath, noted English aviatrix, was in the foreground in stocking feet. Her shoes were pulled off by the mud as she ran to accede the flyers welcome.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Two of America's leading industrialists discussed prohibition in interview presented by the United Press today. Henry Ford expressed the opinion that prohibition would remain in force and be increased, while Pierre S. Dupont, who favors modification, declared that prohibition could claim no part in the nation's prosperity.)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(UP)—Henry Ford, billionaire automobile manufacturer and ardent dry, expects to bring prohibition to foreign lands by stimulated industry there.

He believes prohibition and industry go hand in hand and that with creation of a zest for work, brought on by the proximity of American initiative, the downfall of liquor in other countries will follow.

TO GRADUATES

President of Scripps College to Be College Commencement Speaker

THAT Dr. Ernest James Jaqua, president of Scripps College of Claremont is to deliver the commencement address to the thirteenth graduating class from the Santa Ana junior college was the announcement made today by McKee, Dean of the college.

The increasing use of machinery in every phase of industry, machinery in the street, machinery in the home and machinery in the air—all of these, he said, make sobriety not only desirable but a biological necessity in this high-speed civilization.

"Prohibition is here to stay," he said. "Prohibition must be enforced. There can be no turning back. I do not believe the people of the country want modification."

"Did you express that sentiment in your talk with the president?" he was asked.

"Let us name some of those ideals which make Decoration Day significant."

"Unselfish love of country stands foremost. The true patriot has the keenest sorrow, when his city or his country is in danger, either from inward evils or outward foes."

"It is easier to take up arms against an enemy from without than clean out the evil from within. Our nation needs patriots today, who love their country for what they may give to it in service and sacrifice rather than for what they may get out of it."

"Willingness to sacrifice is at the heart of true patriotism as it is the soul of true religion. Millions of people will look upon the graves of those old heroes of the war and place flowers on their tombs. But what does it all mean? Certainly not the deification of might or the worship of the sword, but a true appreciation of the sacrifice through which we have come to our present happiness and prosperity. It is a recognition of the fact that patriotism costs something. To often we would be more willing to take the risks of war than to deny ourselves the pet hobbies or sky sins of our appetites. It is far easier to take up arms against an outside foe and risk life than it is to sacrifice our appetites for the eighteenth amendment of the constitution."

"If we are to preserve the heritage handed down to us and carry through in our own time we must learn that true patriotism costs something. These ideals are realizable. They are practical. Our security is no longer stone walls and iron bars, but sterling character of our citizenship. Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

"Memorial day honors the dead. It is fitting that we should, But what mockery, to praise the dead while there are thousands of boys about us, broken in spirit, shattered in body, useless in business, who came from fighting our war for us and are now forgotten. It is a terrible thing for a nation to call her sons to war; it is a more terrible thing to fail in caring for those who come back helpless and broken. The disabled veteran of the World war is entitled to the best care that a wealthy nation can bestow. Decoration day is not compete until we have honored the men in practical helpfulness, who, because of the war, are now helpless and are only asking for a chance. Honor has died; love and a chance for the disabled veteran."

the discussion with a question.

Ford made a flying one-day visit to the capital expressly to accept the president's luncheon invitation.

During the morning he browsed in the famous antique shops of Alexandria in quest of new pieces for his world famous collection of colonial Americana.

A new Deisel engine, especially designed for aircraft, will be the next major production of the Ford establishment. If research now underway produces the hoped-for results, Ford told newsmen.

"It is a little too early to forecast the future of the Deisel engine or to say that it will revolutionize aviation," he said. "He does not propose to seek a Deisel for automobiles, and it is still uncertain whether the added weight of this type is compensated by the cheaper operating costs in airplanes."

NEW YORK, May 27.—(UP)—

Prohibition can claim no part in the prosperity of America, according to Pierre S. Du Pont, chairman of the board of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Company, former chairman of the board of General Motors corporation, and one of America's leading industrialists.

In the opinion of Du Pont, given in a United Press interview today, there was less intemperance before the World war and before prohibition than there is now. Furthermore Du Pont holds the radio, the moderately priced automobile, the phonograph and the desire for better things, bred in the American soul of the high wages of the war days, are responsible for the American working man's improved condition.

The end of a decade of radical prohibition finds, he asserted, a "set back" in law observance resulting from the eighteenth amendment.

"The saloon of old," he said,

"has been called and was, as a matter of fact, the working man's club. Had the laws been enforced, the saloon would have been as innocuous as any other club. The iniquities of the saloon itself have been largely overdrawn."

"Nowadays the working man doesn't need that sort of club. The radio and the automobile have given him a broader horizon and a more wholesome one, providing world contact for his whole family and making his home a better place in which to be."

"Had the saloon continued to exist, he would have given it up for those improvements long since. They furnished an incentive. If the saloon were set up again as an institution, it would not have its former call and appeal."

"If prohibition has accomplished anything, it has taught the workingman that he can spend his money on better things than drink. If it has done this it has filled a good purpose. If it has not done it, in ten years what hope is there that it ever will?"

church under the direction of Mrs. Hulda Deitz, furnished a most effective musical program for the patriotic day. In the morning service, the choir gave the appropriate song written by Kipling, "Lest We Forget," and "Bereft Ye Desirers."

Negro spirituals were given as a portion of the service in compliment of the Rev. Dr. A. P. Shaw, pastor of the Wesley Chapel colored church at Los Angeles, who filled the pulpit last evening. Dr. Shaw gave splendid intellectual discourse which held an inspiration for the congregation because of its spiritual theme.

Negro spirituals were given as a portion of the service in compliment of the Rev. Dr. A. P. Shaw, pastor of the Wesley Chapel colored church at Los Angeles, who filled the pulpit last evening. Dr. Shaw gave splendid intellectual discourse which held an inspiration for the congregation because of its spiritual theme.

His choir is reputed to be unsurpassed in the Southland in the quality of musical interpretation which they present. The service was enriched with their jubilee numbers.

WIFE, DAUGHTER OF CAPITALIST KILLED

SANTA ROSA, May 27.—(UP)—

Charles D. Barnett, 50, capitalist, only survivor of a fatal automobile accident yesterday eight miles north of Willits in which his wife, 46, and daughter, Edith, 16, were killed, will recover, according to information today from the Willits hospital, where he is attended by his son, Dr. Dwight Barnett.

Barnett's injuries consist of a broken ankle and cuts and bruises.

He was not informed until this morning of the death of his wife and daughter. Funeral arrangements for them are pending word from members of the family.

DeathsA WORD OF COMFORT

Your spirit has been wind-swept and tempest tossed; it has been lightning impossible for you to see anything in correct perspective.

It behoves you to question your condition and your heart during the trying days just passed. Look back to the quiet earlier days and lay hold upon the faith and the confidence which inspired you then.

God has not abandoned you; he has not ceased to love you; he cannot bring back to life on earth the one who has been and is your all; but He will lead you steadfastly on to your reward and will help you to feel how near Paradise is even now.

GRANERS—In Garden Grove, May 26th, 1929, Leslie William Rogers, 26 years. He was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Rogers. Funeral services under the direction of Hartman & Brown were held at 11 o'clock today at the grave in Fairhaven cemetery. Rev. J. M. Schleitner officiating.

LLS—At his home in Garden Grove, May 26, 1929, A. F. Mills, 61 years. Funeral services will be held Tuesday, May 28th, at 2:30 p. m., in Tuttle chapel, with interment in Fairhaven cemetery. Mr. Mills was a native of California and had lived in Garden Grove since 1926. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. Ira B. Mills; three children, Raymond, Ruth and Floyd; a brother, George Mills; of Garden Grove; two sisters, Mrs. Julia McCormick, Long Beach, and Mrs. Jane Young, Lemon.

INTOXICATION CHARGES LAND 11 IN BASTILLE

A total of four arrests on charges of driving while intoxicated and seven others on straight intoxication charges were chalked up by state traffic officers. Santa Ana and Tustin police and sheriff's deputies last night.

State Traffic Officer Ray Bradfield started the ball rolling at 5:10 p. m., when he brought in three Mexicans. Manuel Espinoza, 30, laborer, who lives at 156 West Forty-third street, Los Angeles, was booked on a charge of driving drunk. The other two, Alberto Torres, 27, foundry worker, and Pete Cruz, 30, tile setter, both of Los Angeles, were charged with intoxication.

Chief John Stanton, of Tustin, contributed the next jail lodger in the person of William D. Williams, 31, presser, of 1814 West Fifth street, whom he charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

Three counts, the most serious of which was that of driving while drunk, were lodged against Mrs. N. B. Knapp, 35, building manager, who lives in Rosemead, by State Traffic Officers F. G. Yoder and Dan Adams, who reported they had quite a struggle getting the prisoner to jail. The other charges against Mrs. Knapp are breaking glass on the highway and possession of liquor. They also arrested her husband, N. B. Knapp, on charges of breaking glass on the highway and possession.

An air transport man and a movie employee were arrested by State Traffic Officers C. J. Cain and Ernest Sawyer, who booked Max Cornwell, 28, superintendent of air transport at the Grand Central Air terminal, on a charge of driving while drunk, and E. J. Cliff, 25, film developer, of Los Angeles, who was with Cornwell, on an intoxication count.

Set. E. E. Perry and Motorcycle Officer Ed Lentz, of the Santa Ana police department, accounted for two of the intoxication cases. They arrested Manuel Gonzales, 29, laborer and Gene Gordman, 34, both of 818 Pine street.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Humiston brought in the last "customer" when he booked Herman Cruz, 28, an upholsterer, of Whittier, on an intoxication charge at 10:15 p. m.

Authorities reported it one of the busiest evenings they have experienced in a long time.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

OCEANVIEW, May 27.—Donald Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross, celebrated his sixth birthday anniversary last week and his teacher, Miss Feaster of the kindergarten department of the Oceanview school and his classmates were entertained at a party by Donald's mother.

The party was held at 10 o'clock in the kindergarten room. A large cake bearing six pink candles, was set before the honoree.

LITTLE WORK IS NEEDED TO PUT CAMP IN ORDER

Camp Ro-Ki-Li, the Y. M. C. A. camp in the San Bernardino mountains, passed through the winter without damage to buildings or equipment. It was revealed here today by T. P. McKee, boys' work secretary, who returned from a trip of inspection to the camp late yesterday afternoon.

McKee accompanied a group of 21 Orange county men who went to the camp Saturday for the purpose of inspecting the quarters and deciding what work will be necessary to put the camp in shape for summer operation.

No particular repair work will be necessary, the secretary said, but there will be considerable cleanup work to do. A group of workers will go to the camp on June 11 to put the place in order for the opening of summer vacations, on June 18.

The 12 cabins, swimming pool, dining room and kitchen and all other buildings on the site withstood splendidly the rigorous snow and weather conditions obtaining in the mountain section during the winter months.

The group going up Saturday and returning yesterday was composed of members of the county committee and the camp committee. Those from Santa Ana were McKee, Col. S. H. Flinley, J. A. Cranston, R. H. McArthur and W. B. Tedford.

PROGRAM FOR RANCHER FIELD DAY ANNOUNCED

The final program for the Orange county excursion to the Riverside experiment station, tomorrow, was issued by Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg today.

The tour will include a stop at the Prado dam site, where Paul Bailey, flood control engineer, will speak. Visits to the various experimental plots, including fertilizer, rootstock, citrus and avocado diseases, and pruning will be featured during the day.

Cars will assemble in Olive at 8:30 a. m., at the bridge, and Yorba at 8:45 a. m., and proceed to the dam site in the Santa Ana canyon. Everyone interested is invited by Wahlberg to bring a picnic lunch and make the trip. The experiment station will furnish coffee and cream.

Program and Schedule
8:30 a. m., leave Olive.
8:45 a. m., leave Yorba bridge.
9 a. m., arrive Prado dam site—Paul Bailey.

10:15 a. m., arrive Rubidoux branch of experiment station; fertilizer experiments; visit plots; lectures on fertilizer chemistry for citrus groves, Drs. Batchelor and Thomas.

12:30 p. m., picnic lunch in eucalyptus grove.

1:15 p. m., talk on avocado diseases, Dr. W. P. Horne.

1:45 p. m., talk on the Mediterranean fruit fly situation, Prof. Harry Smith.

2:30 p. m., talk on citrus and walnut mottle leaf studies and demonstration, Dr. H. J. Haas.

3 p. m., visit root stock experiments. Explanation of root stocks, by Dr. H. J. Webber.

3:30 p. m., questions and adjournment.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

NEWPORT BEACH, May 27.—Mrs. Reber of the Florence bakery was the recipient of a surprise party at Aunt Pat's cafe planned by her husband on the occasion of her birthday. A chicken dinner was served. An enormous birthday cake, the personal handiwork of Mr. Reber, was served. About 20 close friends were present. Many useful gifts were given the guest of honor.

WORK ON EL PORTAL WILL START IN SUMMER OF 1930

The direct work necessary for opening El Portal boulevard, from Chapman street to Main street, will not get under way before the summer of 1930, it was stated today by Clyde Jenken, city engineer.

Incidentally, it may be said Santa Ana boulevard is the name given the avenue from the north in place now being developed in the office of the city engineer. No name for the street has been definitely chosen as yet by the council, it was pointed out by the engineer. El Portal was the name carried on the temporary map drawn for the purposes of the annexation election held recently for voting into the city a strip of land necessary to the opening of the more direct route into the city from the north.

In discussing the possible date of starting work on the project, the city engineer said that it probably would be a month before drafting of the plans and specifications would be completed.

Condemnation proceedings to acquire title to land for the 80-foot boulevard will be the big cause for delay, Jenken pointed out.

Forty-seven land owners will be involved in these proceedings. The route cuts diagonally across every piece of property between Chapman and Main.

away with first honors in the special stunts division. A cast of 11, consisting of K. E. Morrison, interlocutor; Jack Lloyd, Jack Miller, Orlo Householder and Bear Wallace, end men; Dr. K. H. Sutherland, Hugh Runnels, A. B. Gibbs and Cap Hillyard vocalists; John Jackson, clog dancer, and Miss Ruth Armstrong, accompanist, put on a 45-minute show which, with the aid of a public address system, was easily heard by the large crowd.

The Fullerton road department, with a boxing match for their special stunt, won second place in the special presentations. The bucking saw horse, attached to the rear of an old car and ridden by an entry of the Sheriff-Garage division, created a lot of amusement for the spectators as did the stunt by the Santa Ana road department, which showed how a new road is torn up by contractors and public utilities and left in worse shape than it was before being paved.

NEFF ELECTED PRESIDENT

At the business session following dinner, which was served to 788 persons, Nat Neff, county road superintendent, was elected president for the ensuing year to succeed Kenneth E. Morrison, who was president this year. The annual report, read by Miss Justice Whitney, county recorder, who is secretary-treasurer of the County Officers and Employees' association, showed that the organizations' affairs are in good shape. C. H. Chapman, new member of the board of supervisors, and Paul Bailey, flood control engineer, were introduced to the assembled group as new members by President Morrison.

Music during dinner and for dancing was furnished by the Howell orchestra. A clever stunt by the Santa Ana road department, with a group of 50 children from the health camp.

Attendance records of previous years all were sent into the discord, reference to past records shows, by the crowd which attended Saturday's outing. Ten years ago the attendance was 75, in 1923 it mounted to 250 and last year it was 540.

TO DIRECT SERVICES

ATWOOD, May 27.—The Rev. John Janeway, pastor of the Mexican Methodist church, will have the Bible study hours at the Mexican Free Methodist church conference held at the Mexican Methodist church, Belvedere, June 1 to 10.

NEW OWNERS SHELL PLANT BOOST OUTPUT

NEXT BEACH, May 27.—The Newport shell factory, formerly operated by J. Robinson, of Los Angeles, has been purchased by G. W. Harbor and D. L. Huffine, with O. L. Huffine as superintendent. New machinery has been added since the new owners have taken over the concern.

Harbor and Huffine were for 16 years connected with the Long Beach Salt company. Huffine is sales manager of the Huffine Grain company, Los Angeles, spending part of his time here as salesman for the shell company.

The business of dredging shells from the bay and converting them into egg shell material is a unique one, nothing like it being found in Southern California and probably not elsewhere, and has given rise to the slogan which the present company is featuring, "Newport Shell for Eggshell."

There are other localities where shells are gathered in a small way, but not dredged from the bay as they are here. The Newport Boat works is at present doing the dredging for the shell company, and is bringing up 500 tons of shell at a time. Thus far the company has not been able to keep up with the demand for shells due to not being able to mill the product fast enough, but with added machinery and expansion they expect to do so in the future. They are now cleaning and grinding from 16 to 20 tons per day, and employing about 12 men, including the barge force.

The market for the shell product extends from the San Fernando valley southward in California, and to Nevada and Arizona.

The most desirable product of the shells is the medium grade for grown chickens, but a finer grade for little chickens, shell meal for mash, and shell flour for fertilizer is also manufactured. For the latter product a dust collector has been installed so that nothing goes to waste.

Another new contrivance is the stock-piling conveyor, which conveys the fresh shells from the barge and piles them up in front of the plant. It has a capacity of 50 tons per hour. The capacity of the mill is 25 tons of finished product per day.

It is claimed that the shells will contain a much higher percentage of calcium-carbonate, the substance which helps the hens to form good egg shells, than the kind known as dead shells.

PUPILS OF SAVANNA SCHOOL GIVE PLAY

HANSEN, May 27.—"On Midsummer's Day," was presented by the students of the Savanna school Friday evening. Mrs. Mary Pitts designed the costumes, which were made by the mothers of the school. The setting of the stage was in harmony with the play. Mrs. Elta W. Evans, principal of the school, directed the play.

The cast of the characters follow: fairy queen, Evelyn Bressel; the child, Mary Hein; daisies, Ellen Burch and Margaret Perry; violets, Doris Adams and Emma Dargatz; primroses, Jeane Atwater and Dorothy Cole; pinks, Flavia Foster and Kathryn Trapp; poppies, Howard Lukins and Daniel Hein; nasturtiums, Bill Burch and Glen Miser; asters, John Foster and Paul Miser; pansies, David Clark and Donald Hylton; butterflies, Bettie Lou Thompson, Elizabeth Bressel, Cyril Newton, Georgia Cox, Arlene Perry, Dorothy Winney, Oleta Foster, Oleta Arnett, Elizabeth Bressel, Cyril Newton, Bettie Lou Thompson, Georgia Cox; brownies, Earl Waynick, Garrot Trapp, Charles Peters, Herman Stolte, Lynn Arnett, Robert Newton, Charles Hicks; sunbonnet girls, Phyllis Burch, Vivian Hyatt, Marie Eckert, Freda Sawtelle, Helen Escalante, Minnie Rodriguez, Jessie Leisle; overall boys, Loren Lukins, Walter Garrot, Robert Hylton, Tom Harris, Harold Miser.

An enthusiastic audience viewed the play.

Committee members are as follows: Mrs. G. L. Waterman, Miss Kathryn Mackenzie, Louis Rochet, Mrs. D. Morrison, Miss Sarah Conant, A. O. Kent, W. C. Suender, Fred Opp, chairman, and E. V. Minor, secretary.

125 ATTRACTED TO YACHT CLUB DINNER PARTY

By S. H. LUCAS

NEXT BEACH, May 27.—The birthday party inaugurating the 12th year of the activities of the Newport Harbor yacht club, was celebrated Saturday at the clubhouse on Newport bay.

A six-course dinner was served, after which dancing was enjoyed until after midnight. Covers were laid for 125 persons.

Many members were hosts to small parties of their friends of from four to fourteen, among whom were Commodore W. K. Murphy, Parker H. Cunningham, of Pasadena, Mrs. Florence D. Schoneman and daughter, Admiral Albert Solland, Tevis D. Westgate, of Santa Ana; Dr. Clayton E. Wheeler, of Los Angeles; A. M. Lewis, of Riverside; A. B. Rousselle, of Santa Ana; Alfred E. Rodkers, of Los Angeles; Richard Loynes, of Long Beach; Dr. F. C. Ferry, of Balboa; Dr. Walton Hubbard, of Los Angeles; Capt. H. H. Hammer, of San Clemente; P. H. L. Wilson, of Los Angeles; M. F. Palmer, of Hollywood.

A marvelous display of trophies won by Dick Loynes, Long Beach, in the 151 hydroplane class, comprising the accumulation of four years racing throughout the United States and Cuba, were on display and Dick Loynes was the recipient of many congratulations.

A. HIGH SECOND DEBATE CONTEST

In the preliminary meet of the Southern California Oratorical Association for high schools, held at Occidental College, Miss Louise Van, Santa Ana high school senior, was awarded second place and will compete in the state May 31.

Schools represented at the meet were Pasadena, Long Beach, Diego, Inglewood, Brea-Olinda and Santa Ana.

Another district includes the Los Angeles schools and the surrounding districts are in the third. This will be held at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Inglewood received first place, Long Beach was third. All place winners will speak in the finals. Miss Hogan, who spoke "World Peace," is a sophomore in the local school. She has been the debating team all year and competed in the preliminary meet of the national oratorical contest in Fullerton in March. She is a candidate for commissioner of elections in the current student election at the school.

Truck Operators In $28,180 Action

Jannah Libengood, 26, of Los Angeles, has launched a $28,180 damage suit today against Elmer Webb and Roy Webb, truck operators, of Long Beach.

The complaint asserted that the defendants were guilty of negligence, on January 22, when they asserted to have left a large truck and trailer parked on the east highway at night near San Clemente.

The plaintiff asserted that the truck in which she was riding was speeded off the highway by other drivers and that it struck the truck, injuring her. The truck and trailer unit weighed 14 tons, the complaint stated.

Police News

All members of the Santa Ana police department were instructed today in an order issued by Chief C. Rogers to enforce the ordinance passed recently by the city council requiring certain electric signs to be kept illuminated during certain hours of the night.

A report from the 900 block on 1st Street Friday afternoon that some Mexicans were trying a fight resulted in Sergeant E. Perry and Motorcycle Officer A. Hershey making a call to the scene of the disturbance to restore peace. The report filed by the officers on their return was that it was a "kid" affair involving two boys and a girl.

A bicycle belonging to Virgil Morris, 1810 South Parton street, had been taken from the Y. C. A. was recovered by the police in a downtown alley.

Mrs. Maud Wiechart, 1721 North Wiesner street, reported to police that some children playing in her yard had found a purse. Investigation revealed that it answered the description of the purse belonging to Mrs. Walter Anderson that had been stolen by a sneak thief, who got two purses and a hat during a card party at the home of H. H. Dale, 1616 French street, Thursday night. Contents of the purse were found tucked in a nearby hedge.

Charged with burglary on a complaint filed by Los Angeles residents, Julio Pacheco, 17, Wintersburg laborer, was jailed there. The case was transferred from Los Angeles and the prisoner was brought in by L. R. Warren, probation officer.

State Traffic Officer F. G. Yoder arrested Edward Shannon, 36, mechanic, of Los Angeles, Friday afternoon on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Alvino Peralta, 24, of Los Angeles, who gave his occupation as broom corn sorter, was arrested Friday by Deputy Sheriff M. E. Jamison on a warrant charging non-support. Peralta later was released on his own recognizance by Justice Kenneth Morrison, who set his examination for 9 a. m., May 28.

Chicken thieves who stole eight bowls from the Chilcoat poultry ranch at Paularino several nights ago also cut down a fence and released several calves, it was learned today. The marauders broke down the fence and several young calves strayed out. The chickens' heads were found in the yard the next morning by Mr. Chilcoat. No other thefts have been reported from this region.

"Bathhouse" John Coughlin, Chicago alderman, owns White Eye and Karl Eitel . . . And he owns also a light regard for a well known constitutional amendment . . . He had 24 colts a couple of years ago and he had to name them . . . And some of them he named "Good Beer," "Four Per Cent," "Light Wine," "Real Stuff" etc. . . . And when he filed the names for registration the Jockey club marked off the whole list . . . The Jockey club is very particular about names . . . SMACK AT DER PAULIE

Der Paulie Berlenbach, who quit the boxing racket and went back to his first love, wrestling, was hauled in recently before the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission. The commissioners had a very low regard for the art that was demonstrated in a match between Berlenbach and Pat McKay.

Berlenbach was notified that he had been suspended and was asked if he had anything to say in his own defense.

He is a simple and innocent sort of a lad and he protested that he had not stalled or carried his man and that he was doing the best rassling he knew.

And the chairman of the commission popped back at poor Paulie:

"Well, you'll stay suspended now. If that's the best you can do you ought to be kept out of the ring."

ONE FOR DER GUS

A few minutes later the commission slapped the plaster on Der Gus Sonnenberg, der heavyweight rassling champion, with the official decree that it would beboove him

LACK OF ABILITY USUALLY IS REASON WHY SONS OF FAMOUS BALL PLAYERS FAIL TO SHINE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

CLEVELAND, May 27.—If you care to ponder over such a serious problem it might be found unusual that so few sons of distinguished ball players have been successful in following in their father's footsteps. Baseball men will tell you that the reason is the lack of natural ability in the boy and that parental advice against the profession could not be held accountable.

There have been a few cases on record, of course, where the ball playing father advised his son against the game as a profession.

In 1921 I was sent to Saranac lake to get an interview with Christy Mathewson, who, at the time, was fighting tuberculosis for his life. He was so desperately ill at the time that he couldn't be seen and Mrs. Mathewson kindly offered to act as the pinch hitter.

About Christy Junior

During the course of the conversation I asked her about Christy Jr., and what his plans were for the future.

"Is he going to be a ball player?" I asked Mrs. Mathewson.

"He's on the high school team now," she replied. "He pitches and plays the infield and I think he is a very good ball player. But his father doesn't want him to be a ball player. He has told him that it is too hard a life unless you happen to be a genius. And I know his father never would be happy to see him just a laborer in baseball. His father wants him to get a good education and follow some technical profession. I believe Sonny would like to be a ball player but as he is getting older I believe he thinks that the name of his father would be difficult to live up to with distinction. And perhaps he wouldn't want to be a second string pitcher with that name."

He Didn't Play Ball

Young Matty didn't go into baseball. He has gone into aviation as an engineer and the diamond will never know the son of a very distinguished father.

When Judge Landis was appointed commissioner of baseball a group of newspapermen were asking him his opinion of the profession of baseball. He said he always had been a rabid fan and that he thought it was a dignified profession.

"Would you want your son to go into baseball as a career?" the Judge was asked. His son, Reed Landis, was the second ranking ace to Eddie Rickenbacker in the A. E. F. flying corps.

Landis Refuses To Answer

"I refuse to answer that question," the Judge answered. "It is not pertinent. Perhaps my boy couldn't have been a ball player if I had wanted him to be one."

There are some fathers, however, who are encouraging and helping their boys to get along in the profession they adopted.

HUDKINS SHUNS FRAZIER: BOUT DATE IS UNSET

Although Clyde Hudkins has given his verbal agreement to bring his famous fighting brother, Ace, to the Orange County Athletic club in the immediate future, the Hudkins brothers have made it plain they do not care to mingle with Wally Frazier, Hawthorne light heavy, according to Kid Mexico, O.C.A.C. matchmaker.

Consequently, while negotiations are still in progress nothing definite can be announced as to when and where the "Wildcat" will appear here, Mexico said.

Meanwhile, the local boxing promoters are preparing to pack 'em in again at their 40-round bargain show that will be held Wednesday night. Ten four-round battles will be offered on this card.

The program follows:

"Bubber" Johnson vs. Morris Eagleton.

Aurelio Mision vs. Melvin Bobo, Art Emory vs. Eddie Lazoano, Hi Gill vs. Eddie Benson.

Bobby Bridges vs. Bert Hubbard, Al Cruise vs. Mexican Tommy O'Brien.

Jess Gabuco vs. Jesse Vanquez.

Cliff Burrier vs. Frank Echeverra.

John Christmas vs. Tiger Napoleon.

Louis Medina vs. Eagle Thomas.

FRANKLIN B. MORSE, SPORT SCRIBE, DEAD

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., May 27.—Franklin B. Morse, widely known sports writer, was found dead in bed today at his Forest Knolls home. Death was apparently due from heart disease.

Morse was one of the best known athletes produced by Princeton University and was chosen as a half-back on the first All-American team selected by the late Walter Camp.

He and Johnnie Poe, another famous son of Nassau, made football history in the closing days of the nineteenth century, and Morse was said by football authorities to be the only college football player who never missed a tackle in four years of playing.

Morse came to the Pacific Coast as sports editor of the Western division of the Associated Press, a position he resigned several years ago. In recent years he has been a football writer for San Francisco newspapers.

STANFORD IC4A WIN NOT SURE IF RIVALS BEAT WEIGHT MEN

Even though Stanford's track squad is favored to win the eastern intercollegiates again this season, there is a possibility that rival athletes may "cut in" for points in the events in which Stanford seems strongest and thus throw the meet into a mad scramble for team honors. Here are seven athletes from eastern colleges who may affect the scoring: Adelman of Georgetown, Anderson of Cornell and Black of Maine, weights; Wildermuth of Georgetown, sprints; Gillian of Columbia, javelin; Swope of Dartmouth and St. Clair of Syracuse, middle distances.

DEMPSY CANCELS CONTRACT AS MATCHMAKER FOR PROMOTERS; NO OUTDOOR ARENA AVAILABLE

By BOB MATHERNE
NEA Service Sports Writer

Unlike most authorities who picture Stanford as an easy winner of the eastern intercollegiate championship at Philadelphia Saturday, Lawrence Robertson sees a possibility that the westerners will be offered very strong competition.

"Only a cyclone can prevent Stanford from winning," the Pennsylvania track coach says, "because of Krebs and Rothert. They should account for approximately 14 points in the weight events."

"Add to their total the number of points expected to be made by Nichols, Edmonds, Dyer and others on the team and you can readily see there is little chance of heading them off."

Many Individual Stars

"There is no one team strong enough as a team to bother Stanford, but there is plenty of scattered strength among individuals on other teams. There is a strong possibility that Southern California, Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania and New York University will offer keen competition as teams here and there with brilliant performances by individual stars."

"There also exists the possibility that Stanford's totals in the two field events may be cut down. Krebs may not win the discus because of the manner in which John Anderson of Cornell has been tossing the plate this spring."

"It was my ambition to stage at least one such bout in an outdoor arena in New York this summer. Cole and Fugazy at the time had a promise from certain parties that they would have the Polo Grounds and they were absolutely confident they could get them. That would have fitted in exactly with my plans."

"But it later developed that they could not get the Polo Grounds; that they actually were under the control of other parties."

The former champion announced he would go to Chicago next winter to promote a series of bi-monthly indoor bouts for the Chicago Colliseum.

SPEED

TIME is an essential element in modern banking. Promptness in the collection of items deposited in bank is of great importance to business men.

Air mail has shortened the transit interval between here and Chicago by from 24 to 36 hours, and between here and New York by from 36 to 60 hours. The Federal Reserve System has improved and speeded up the system of interchange of bank items.

To these time-saving methods, Security First National Bank has added a 24-hour transit service, with a force working day and night, a system of swift messengers between its branches, supplemented by the use of air mail up and down the Pacific Coast and into Arizona.

We invite the commercial business of firms, corporations and other banks, offering as one inducement a superior time-saving transit service.

SOON TO BE 'DOC' BORAH

It won't be long before Charlie Borah, Southern California's speedy sprinter, will hang up his spiked shoes and hang out a shingle reading "Charles Borah, D. D. S." Borah, long an honor student, will graduate from the dental school soon. He is shown here, getting his final practice work toward his degree. Before he finishes, he hopes to win the 100 and 220 in the national intercollegiates at Philadelphia.

BOYD SHATTERS COURSE RECORD AT CYCLE RACE

Bill Boyd, Santa Ana pilot, today

held the course record of 49 seconds flat for the Orange County Motorcycle club's track, located off Talbert road between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach.

Boyd lowered "Irish" Hodges' mark of 47 1-2 seconds during time trials that opened yesterday's race meet. The Santa Ana was aboard a Harley-Davidson.

Race results follow:

10-mile race for 45 motors—Won by Ollie Killinbeck, Indian; "Irish" Hodges, Harley-Davidson, second. Time, 8 min. 15 3-5 seconds.

20-mile race for 61 motors—Won by Bill Boyd, Harley-Davidson; Ollie Killinbeck, Indian, second. Time, 15 min. 14 2-5 sec.

Consolation race—Won by Glen Rathbun, Harley-Davidson; Eddie Heffner, Indian, second. Time, 4 min. 21 2-5 sec.

10-mile sidecar race—Won by Bill Christman, Harley-Davidson; C. W. Christensen, Harley-Davidson, second.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

BIBLE CLASS IS ADDRESSED BY LEGION PASTOR'Soul And Body'
Topic Of Science
Churches' Lesson

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon was "Soul and Body." Sunday, in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Among the scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon, cited from the Christian Science quarterly, were the following verses from Psalm xxiii: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want . . . He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake . . . Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," presented these words of Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of being reveals man as perfect, even as the Father is perfect, because the Soul, or Mind, of the spiritual man is God, the divine Principle of all being, and because this real man is governed by Soul instead of sense, by the law of spirit, not by the so-called laws of matter."

SECOND COMING OF CHRIST NEAR SAYS PASTOR

The Rev. Mrs. Vera B. Brown, pastor of the Foursquare Gospel Lighthouse church, gave a patriotic sermon in the church last night.

She said in part:

"What an awful thing war is;

"the shock of the last great war still lingers in the hearts and minds of the world. Loved ones were taken away and hearts and bodies were torn and bleeding."

"There is a cry to 'Peace, Peace' going forth today, but according to the Bible when we cry peace and safety then cometh sudden destruction. Over in France just now they are honoring the unknown soldier—we honor our unknown soldier, Jesus Christ, who gave His life for the world.

"The great cry of preparedness went forth before the last war, and today it is still carried out. That is all right, but we need to be prepared for the greater events and the coming great war. How little the world knows about the coming great events and the second coming of Jesus. People are willingly ignorant."

"Many thing the Bible is out of date, but it is actually ahead of time. God's plan will be fulfilled and His word shall never pass away."

"What is the coming great war? It will be fought in Jerusalem, in God's Holy land, but it will involve the whole world. (Zechariah 14:2; Revelation 16: 13-16). We know it near because the second coming of Christ is near. We know He is coming back because He said so."

children who have entered into an inheritance of peace and plenty by others' agonies. Few of us have the remotest conception what it means to stand unflinchingly to the truth. Between this body and soul uniting us to God is a spirit. A few are without this spirit for God never loses sight of us, never lets go of us unless we deliberately turn from Him, so we all have the three,

WOMAN'S PAGE

by Louise Stephenson

San Clemente Girl Is Hostess at White Party

A suggestion of Venice and its gondolas of romance, was conveyed in the unusually artistic appointments of a bridge luncheon given Saturday by Mrs. Charles R. Gilbert of 510 South Parton street, and her daughter, Miss Olive Gilbert, to announce to a coterie of their friends, the betrothal and mid-summer wedding date of Miss Gilbert and Kenneth Wyckoff Ranney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Ranney, 2321 North Park boulevard.

Palisades club at Balboa beach was chosen as setting for the colorful affair, and guests assembled in the pretty dining room found their places at tables arranged in a hollow square. Enclosed in this square beneath a festoon of greenery which connected it with the main tables, was a smaller table bearing a graceful gondola fashioned from Cecil Brunner rosebuds. A tiny bride and groom rested beneath a canopy of rosebuds, to be guided by a small Kewpie gondolier with a golden paddle. The pretty idea was given further emphasis by the pale green and gold gondola nut-cups and the small vessels that formed place and tally cards.

At each place was an exquisite corsage of pink rosebuds holding a small envelope whose contents revealed the engagement of Miss Gilbert and Mr. Ranney, and their chosen wedding date of July 11.

Following the enjoyable luncheon hour, was led to the boathouse at the water's edge, where guests found everything in readiness for an afternoon of bridge and needlework. Miss Mildred Ranney scored high in the card contest, receiving a silver-inlaid crystal sugar and cream set. A set of bridge tallys and score pads in an artistic etched design, was presented Miss Mary Andrews, while Miss Eleanor Guyer, rating third place, was rewarded with a dainty piece of china in boat design. In the group of needleworkers, Miss Mame Havens secured the prize on a drawing—a graceful vase in Roseville pottery.

Miss Gilbert, who was a very lovely picture in an orchid lace afternoon frock in ensemble effect, is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and University of California at Los Angeles. For the past three years she has taught at McKinley school where the Glee club which she directs, plays a prominent part in school musical life. She is a member of Delta Chi Epsilon sorority and is prominent in Hermosa chapter, O. E. S. where she has held office for two years. Her fiance is also a Santa Ana high school graduate, and an alumnus of California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. At present he is in the laboratory of the Excelsior Creamery company of which his father is president.

Guests to whom the happy secret of their engagement was disclosed included Mesdames F. H. Cloyes, Trueblood, A. H. Paterson, Roscoe Wilson, C. S. Mitchell, Nell Winslow, Eliza Sweet, B. P. Yeagle, A. H. Segerstrom, W. D. Ranney, E. T. Mateer, Alvin Nowotny, W. L. Duggan, James A. Tarpley, LeRoy Wyckoff, C. A. Ranney, Mark E. Lacy and H. I. Ranney.

The Misses Wilma Plavan, Frances Battye, Mary Andrews, Artie Cleaveland, Emma Hasty, Gertrude Potts, Dorothy Smith, Mildred Ranney, Mame Havens, Eleanor Guyer, Lucinda Griffith, Hazel Isenberg, Henrietta Chase, Thelma Miller and Lois Winslow.

George L. Wells is a guest at the home of Mrs. Blanche Brennan at 1478 Glenneyre street.

Mr. Wells makes his home at the Pennsylvania Athletic club of Philadelphia, and is also a member of the Manufacturers' club and of several country clubs of his home city. He is attending an association meeting in Los Angeles.

Picnic

Children of Mrs. Grace Stephen's room, the sixth grade, went on a school picnic Monday to San Juan Capistrano Hot Springs. Transportation was furnished by L. F. Walden, Mrs. Roy W. Peacock, Mrs. McKnight, Mrs. Latkin, Mrs. Carl E. Benson, Mrs. Latkin. The class left at 9 o'clock.

All of the children went for a walk after dinner, later enjoying the plunge. Mr. Walden threw pebbles into the water for the youthful divers to retrieve. Supper was served on the tables before the young folks left for home.

Visitors

Charles W. Moots, M. D., and Mrs. Moots, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Royster Helm over the week end. The visit was made the occasion of celebrating the second anniversary of the arrival of the Helms in Laguna Beach, the four having driven here together.

Dr. Moots, who has an orange grove at Mentone, near Redlands, is field representative of the American College of Surgeons in hospital standardization work, having the entire Pacific Coast as his territory. He expects to visit this city again in August or September.

Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. George Webster of Arch Beach section entertained friends at a charming dinner party given at the White House Cafe Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Members of the Garden club who were active in making the flower show a success were among the guests.

W. R. C.

Mrs. Karl Jansen was hostess on Friday afternoon at her home on Glenneyre street, Arch Beach as a benefit for the Woman's Relief corps. Refreshments were served and prizes given in bridge and five hundred.

Guild Meets

The Woman's Guild of the Episcopal Church will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday at the church rectory. It met Friday afternoon to prepare for the memorial services and rededication of the edifice as St. Mary's, the ceremony to be held on Monday. Members of the guild have been invited to combine with the guild of the Church of the Messiah of Santa Ana and Trinity Church of Orange at lunch next week.

To Elect Officers

Mrs. Thomas A. Cummings will head the Woman's club of this city if the members vote as the nominating committee has suggested in the list of nominations made recently and reported at the club meeting.

Mrs. Frank B. Champion is named as first vice president; Mrs. W. G. Schneid, second vice president; Miss Gertrude Huber, recording secretary; Miss Marian Alice Parker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James R. Randall, treasurer, and Mrs. George B. Dunham and Mrs. F. D. Pettes as members of the board.

Miss Mary K. Wing was chairman of the nominating committee. The election of officers will be held June 7, at which time a report of the year's activities will be made.

The J. W. McKinney Post No. 135, Woman's Relief corps, will join with the American Legion in an observance of Memorial day, according to a resolution adopted by the lodge at its meeting Monday evening. Plans were discussed at that time for welcoming delegates to the Federation meeting Monday.

Nellie Hawley, chairman of the Victory committee, made a call on members to bring gifts for the box being prepared for inmates of the Relief Corps home.

P.T.A.

The final membership meeting of the Parent-Teacher association is scheduled for Tuesday, May 28, in the kindergarten of the school.

Stanton

Mrs. W. L. Maurer entertained the Nutt society on Thursday at a all day meeting. This society was organized several years ago in Long Beach but now its members live in several different cities.

Placentia

B. G. N.

Members of the B. G. N. were entertained by Mrs. Jeanette Blattner with a bridge luncheon at her home Tuesday. Scotch broom and Ceci Brunner roses decorated the rooms. Mrs. A. B. McDavid and Mrs. J. A. Small of Yorba Linda, and Mrs. J. R. Wallace of Placentia, substituted for Mrs. Nelle M. Cline, Mrs. Sam Newnes and Mrs. J. P. O'Brien, who were absent.

A manicure every six weeks with plentiful doses of dish water between times has its counterpart in floors that are cleaned and waxed twice a year.

With a little forethought floors can be a thing of beauty rather than a reproach to the housewife. Keep a can of floor cleaner or some gasoline on hand, floor wax, either liquid or paste, and some form of a polisher.

On the weekly cleaning day wipe up spots resulting from sweet things with a soapy cloth, and gasoline for all others. After the floor has been thoroughly swept and dusted apply a thin layer of wax; then polish.

And now—a word about what you are likely to do with the polishing: If you are lucky enough to have one of the small electric polishing brushes you are excused from this class. A heavy woolen cloth, plus "elbow grease," does nicely, but here is a still better idea:

Wrap several thicknesses of woolen cloth around the vacuum cleaner and use it just as though you were cleaning rugs.

Old-Fashioned Strawberry Short-Cake

4 cups flour, sifted before measuring

4 tablespoons butter

6 tablespoons sugar

6 level teaspoons baking powder

1-2 teaspoons salt

1 large cupful milk

If your family is small divide this recipe, or better still, measure and mix all ingredients except milk and keep what is not used in the icebox ready for the next shortcake orgy.

Sift the flour twice before measuring, add baking powder, sugar and salt and again. Have the butter very cold, cut it in small pieces and blend thoroughly with the flour.

Mix to a firm dough with sweet milk, turn out on the board and handle as little as possible while rolling the sheet of dough to a half-inch thickness.

Put into a large buttered sheet, mark the dough into squares sized for serving and bake in a quick oven.

• • •

Do you know that strawberry shortcake is twice as good if the berries are just warmed through?

That's gospel truth. A man with a discriminating taste in shortcake told me that his mother always did it that way and it is one of his happy memories.

Split the squares apart and spread with soft butter, put a generous amount of berries between and on top and serve with plain cream while the biscuit part is still piping hot.

A portion, 3 by 3 inches, with cream is worth 300 calories, with thin plain cream add another 100 calories and limit the cream to 4 tablespoons.

SEALED SUNSHINE, the current leaflet, offers you delightful egg recipes. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a free copy.

house. This will conclude the business under the present administration.

Miss Marie Madden and Mrs. Georgia Todd, first grade and kindergarten teachers respectively, were guests of honor at the silver shears tea given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Norman Chamberlain and Mrs. Jean Bell. (READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Goofygoos held on real tight. I'll do a clever thing for you. Now kindly set me free." And then as soon as this was done, the fish said, "Now, we'll have some fun. I'll call some other flying fish. I think I'll need 'bout three."

Then Scouty said, "That's very true. I'd like to do things like that, too, but let's not harm the flying fish. He surely means all right. I'd hardly think there's any use to hold him. Come, let's turn him loose. I'd love to see him freed 'cause then he'd fly right out of sight."

The Goofygoos thought for a while and then, amidst a cunning smile, he said, "No, wait a minute boys, before this big fish goes. Let's make him do some trick for us. He can. I know, without much fuss. But he must promise first that he won't peek me on the nose."

"I promise," said the flying fish. "And if you Tinymites all wish,

WOODMEN WIN

COSTA MESA, May 27.—One of the most exciting games of this season's night league was played Friday evening at the ball diamond, when the Woodmen played the Mesa Aggies, the score being 10 to 12 in favor of the Woodmen. The game ran 11 innings.

EL MODENA. May 27—Mrs. Harry Hadley had a pleasant surprise on her birthday. Her children and families and friends gathered at her home to help celebrate the event. Music was enjoyed. Refreshments of home made cake and ice-cream were served. Mrs. Hadley received many presents. Among those there were Mr. and Mrs. William Hadley, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hadley, of Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. John Hadley and children, Stanley, Jack and Doane, of Wilmington; Chester and Luther Hadley, Mrs. Palmer and daughter and son, Mrs. Behmer, Miss Marie Behmer, of Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stearns, Mrs. L. R. Behmer and T. F. McCollum, of Orange; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McCollum, of Villa Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Hadley.

The women of the Missionary society of the Friends church met in regular session Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Daisy Hadley on Santiago boulevard. Mrs. Clara Haines had charge of the devotions.

Mrs. Sufferson, of Orange, a former missionary in China, was the speaker of the afternoon. Interesting letters were read from Miss Irma Moody who is in Central America, and from Mr. Roberts, in Mexico.

EVENING SALUTATION

For wisdom is a defense, and money is a defense; but the excellence of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it.

—Ecclesiastes 7:12.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD AS A STABILIZER

The recommendation of the Federal Advisory Council to the Federal Reserve Board that the rediscount rate be raised from 5 per cent to 6 per cent once more calls attention to the value of the Federal Reserve System as a stabilizer of the country's financial and business structure. The wild orgy of speculation on the stock market which has been in progress now for a number of years has been held in check only by the influence of the Federal Reserve Board, to regulate the credit of the country. It has been felt by the board that too large an amount of credit has been carried on securities. This has been to the detriment of business, which is in need of credit to carry on. The recommendation of the Federal Advisory Council is an attempt to equalize credit between business and stocks, so that the prosperity of the country may not be retarded for the want of credit in the business world.

The financial strain of the war and the deflation necessary during the trying post-war period could never have been successfully met had it not been for the flexibility of our financial system. It has at once been a restraint upon wild speculation and an incentive to the development of normal business.

The average citizen little realizes what an important part the Federal Reserve system plays in the general financial and business life of the country, and how far it reaches into the affairs of every one of us. We hope all our readers have been reading the short articles on the editorial page which have been appearing, and will continue to appear, written by Professor Foster and Mr. Catchings. The first is an economic scholar of the first rank. The second is a financier of the first rank. Both men are seeking a solution of our economic and industrial and financial problems. They are not representing any class, and have no special axe to grind.

The science of finance and business has become exceedingly complex. To have a system like the Federal Reserve system is an incomparable blessing to the country. It was one of the large contributions made to our national life by the late President Wilson. To have it explained, as it is being explained every day on this page, by these distinguished authorities, is an opportunity for every one of our readers to become familiar with a governmental policy which touches intimately and vitally the life of every one of us,—worker, business man, financier, and all the rest.

VENEZUELA'S DICTATOR GIVES UP

Juan Vincente Gomez has been sole dictator of Venezuela since the overthrow of Cipriano Castro in 1909. He was "unanimously re-elected" president for another term of seven years recently, but like Caesar of old he has waved the crown aside. He is 70 years old, has had twenty-one years at the helm, and believes that the country is now in such a pacified state that someone else can run it as well as he. Perhaps. It remains to be seen.

Gomez has been a wise dictator. He is a bachelor, has had seventeen sons, and all of them are generals in the Venezuelan army. There is a suggestion for those who would hold continuous rule over a country. But it is not every man who can raise a family as large as that, even though he be married; and if he can, it does not often happen that the boys can all be made into generals.

We smile at a situation like that which has existed in Venezuela. But that is the way many of those Latin American countries have to be run. The whole question is one of getting the right man,—the man who will be sufficiently interested in the country and the people to run it for the benefit of the inhabitants, and not to fatten his own interests and the interests of his family. There is every reason to believe that Gomez, allowing for a few foibles and interests, has been that kind of a president. He has kept the country peaceful. He has not run the country on money borrowed from abroad. Whatever concessions have been made to foreign interests have, on the whole, helped the development of the country for the good of the people. Venezuela, until its people have developed greater capacity for real democratic government, will be fortunate if the successor of Gomez will rule as wisely as he. He is wiser than most dictators. He is getting out while the going is good. He probably has saved enough to live in comfort the rest of his days, and his money is put away in foreign banks, where it is safe from the reach of the next man who may come along.

A poet in Cleveland slings hash for a living. The dispatch doesn't say whether he was a hash slinger discovered as a poet or a poet discovered as a hash slinger.

THE LONG PREPARATION FOR THE DOCTOR

We notice that educational leaders are somewhat troubled by the long period necessary for the training of the modern doctor. To enter the approved medical schools, the young man must hold a college degree from a reputable college. This makes him 21 or 22 years of age, and if he has had to work his way through college, he may be as old as 25. A good medical course today requires four years more. After that the graduate must serve as an intern in a hospital for two more years. This brings him to about the age of 30 or over. Then some time must be allowed to get started in a practice.

This is too long, and the proposition has been made that the college course for pre-medical students might well be shortened two years if the student be relieved from taking studies which have no bearing on his future work. We are inclined to sympathize with the suggestion. While we need well trained doctors, we must have some regard for the length of human life. It might well be that a man may begin his work so late that the years remaining are not sufficient to make the preparation worth while.

CHURCH UNITY

From the annual national assemblies of the different church denominations there has come for a number of years resolutions and speeches on the desirability and possibility of the union of certain denominations.

Every year the idea seems to gain adherents and gets closer to a realization. It takes a long time to move these bodies and the difficulties are great.

Doctrinal and administrative stumbling blocks are strewn in the path which the churchmen must travel.

Government by bishops or elders or democratic action has become a real part of the religion of the various members and a change will mean to many that they would be compelled to accept some new or strange religion or tenets or beliefs contrary to their convictions.

Denominations differ mainly in some doctrine or tenet which the rank and file and many of the clergy have learned to regard as fundamental to a belief and practice of the Christian religion. They regard those beliefs or rites and ceremonies as a means rather than a mode of grace. They elevate a rite which is merely a symbol into an essential.

Methods of government, forms of baptism, literal inspiration, universal final salvation, election or conversion, immaculate conception, miracles and other parts of separate creeds not only have separated the protestant Christian church into more or less warring factions, but have and do keep them apart.

We laugh now at the fine spun theories and fanciful subjects of debate amongst the religious philosophers of the middle ages like the question of the schoolmen as to how many angels could dance on the point of a needle, and yet see no cause of mirth in a debate in the question whether a man is fit for immortality unless the water in baptism is applied in some particular way.

The schoolmen of the dark ages debated and fought over the question whether the church was tangible or intangible and we are amused, but we bristle and growl if some one suggests that perhaps God did not actually dictate the wording of the Biblical genealogies or the splendid allegorical stories of the old testament.

These matters are keeping the churches separated in the face of the derision of the non-churchman and his refusal to choose between them and in the face of the demand on the part of the most intelligently devout Christians that since there are a few essentials in which all Christians believe and which constitute the real and only foundation for Christian faith, that all really non-essentials be left entirely to the individual conscience, and if a written creed be necessary, to put into it the things which really count and upon which all can agree.

The Presbyterian church has revived the matter of organic union by a unanimous adoption of its 141st General Assembly of a recommendation for such union of five large church denominations.

Most other churches seem willing and have committees looking toward the same goal and perhaps our grandchildren may see protestantism united—a consummation devoutly to be wished.

Claremont College Makes Advance
Riverside Press

Expansion of graduate work in the field of education is announced by President James A. Blaisdell of Claremont colleges. Dr. Aubrey A. Douglass, professor of education in Pomona college since 1926 becomes head of the graduate department of education in Claremont colleges; and Hollis P. Allen, now assistant superintendent of schools in San Bernardino will be assistant professor of education. Others who will teach in this enlarged department are Jessie E. Gibson, dean of women, Pomona college; William E. Nicholl, head of the Pomona department of education; Nathaniel W. Stephenson of Scripps college and Robert D. Williams, professor of psychology at Pomona. Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, for many years superintendent of schools in Los Angeles, Merton E. Hill, principal of Chaffey Junior college, Ontario and Kevork A. Sarafan of La Verne college will serve as lecturers in education.

This department is a forward step in the development of the Claremont colleges plan of graduate study. Through this department Claremont colleges will provide training leading to teachers credentials and to the degree of Master of Arts. Special emphasis will be laid on work in elementary education where a year of graduate study will be required for recommendation for the teachers credential. Standards in this field will be distinctly high. The "course" system has been abandoned in the interest of more individual training. In place of a system of "courses" all graduate work in Claremont colleges is now organized into units known as seminars which take into account individual experience and interest. All study will be highly individual, allowing the maximum of flexibility, initiative and self-guidance.

Sailors Who Leave It Alone
New York Times

Those who find Great Britain's drink bill for 1928 of $1,500,000,000 a rather staggering figure should be reminded that it isn't the British sailor who is responsible for its size. The temperance of the navy is demonstrated by figures recently published regarding H. M. S. Rodney during fleet exercises in the Mediterranean.

Out of the total of 962 petty officers and "lower-deck ratings" who were entitled to a daily ration of rum, 693 voluntarily gave it up. They prefer to receive their threepence a day as "savings" instead. This is a great gain in abstemiousness over conditions twenty-five years ago, when it would have been difficult to find a naval vessel on which even 10 per cent of those entitled to rum chose rather to take their money allowance.

It is interesting to note that instead of liquor the sailors are drinking tea in great quantities. Fruit drinks at the soda fountain are also becoming very popular. They are sold for a penny a glass. This new devotion to soft drinks smacks of the "grape-juice" policy of our own navy, with the advantage of being quite voluntary.

If English sailors continue to acquire merit at this rate, reports may be expected soon that Jack is refusing to take his liberty ashore and prefers to stay on the ship and work or study.

A Man of Consequence
Pasadena Star-News

That man Gene Tunney just cannot help being aristocratic. An ordinary man, sued for breach of promise, would have the sum placed at not more than $50,000. But here is Mr. Tunney with a suit against him for $500,000. The man who is important enough to be valued at half a million dollars in a breach of promise suit, is a man of some consequence.

ONE WAY TO PAY

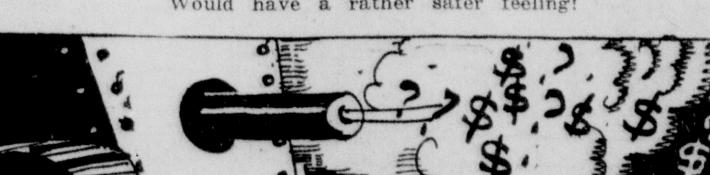

The Kwangsi armies which advanced on the rich commercial city of Canton were bought off, and the war was ended.

In China, when around a town
Investing hostile troops grow thicker
And plant their guns to knock it down
The citizens go out toicker
"How muccee take, no shootum gun?"
They ask, and when the terms are stated
And some sharp haggling has been done
War's horrors have been dissipated.

No cannon batter down the wall
No streets of buildings are denuded.
No bombs destroy the city hall
Before the treaty is concluded,
The people eased of all their fears,
Return to follow their vocations
And do not need in after years
To file big bills for reparations.

Though many people may deplore
That these serene and placid races
Should thus insist on putting war
Upon a cold commercial basis,
And hold that men to every foe
Should offer bold and stern resistance.
Their methods, as the years will show,
Undoubtedly prolonging existence.

And I myself am prone to think That maybe if the other powers
Would imitate the placid Chin
In his delightful land of glowers
And substitute for shell and shot
A little monetary dealing
That almost every patriot
Would have a rather safer feeling!

How We Can All Grow Wealthy

In the Long Ago

From the Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

MAY 27, 1915

Acting on the theory that the step would save the county a considerable amount of money annually, it was decided at the annual meeting of the boards of trustees of Orange county school at Odd Fellows hall, that all school supplies will hereafter be obtained through County Purchasing Agent J. S. Perry.

Lured by the reports of excellent trout fishing on the Sespe, J. W. Tubbs, H. T. Rutherford, Joe Parsons, Dr. M. A. Patton and Neil Brock left by automobile for a week's stay.

At the A. A. U. meet at Los Angeles, Ray Atkinson, now of Pomona college, broke into fast company in the half mile event for the first time this season and showed his friends what they had been expecting of him.

Those who get the new money can buy more goods than before. All other people can buy fewer goods.

It follows that if the Government prints money, or creates credit, to lend to farmers or to ship owners or to anybody else, free of charge, thereby increasing the money in circulation without increasing the goods that money will buy, some people gain at the expense of the rest of us.

The only way we can all grow wealthier is by producing more wealth.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

THE CHILD'S BILL OF RIGHTS

As the educational system of modern democracy grows larger and as their cost increases, education will become more and more a political football.

It becomes important therefore that something approaching a nation-wide agreement be reached on certain underlying principles.

It is necessary, at the outset, to come to an agreement upon the educational rights and privileges that should be granted to our children. When this has been agreed upon, we may then thresh out honest differences of opinion regarding the costs of education.

W. W. Carpenter of the George Peabody College for Teachers suggests the following bill of rights for the school child.

Every child has the right:

1. To attend school every day during the school term, and go to school the same number of days in the year as every other child.

2. To be instructed by a trained teacher.

3. To go to school in a building free from fire hazard.

4. To attend school in a building that is located in a healthful environment; that is, in a scientifically

CHILDREN'S READING

Some day there will be in every children's books. For know, is truly lovely.

We grownups are too about this whole mat, would have the children's a serious matter. What hood to do with serious that call for subdued hushed steps and fine None at all. Bring on Goose with richest illus Fetch along Lear's Rhymes. Furnish up Fables and laugh at the and weep with the sill Give us Brer Rabbit, muc and many times. Scatter verse about and put We Were Very Young on A heap of picture books, the right height and the best color and of course, the finest of wood. Books need a worthy setting.

There will be lots of sculpture about, and a few fine rugs. Somewhere in the room where sunshine can fall upon it there will be a fountain. The sound of splashing murmuring water belongs in the place of books always. The tables and chairs will be inviting; the right height and the best color and of course, the finest of wood. Books need a worthy setting.

And what is to be on the shelves? Everything that is good. The only test I should have for the books that are to be there is that set forth in the fourth of Philippians, eighth verse: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are of good report, if there by any virtue and if there be any praise, think on these things."

No better standard for reading than that can be found anywhere. I'll stand on that. Lovely things for children to read can mean but just that. Lovely things. High action, noble aspiration, charming adventure in fancy and fact, and fun. Please, much fun for the on these things."
